

Articles In Press

Articles “in press” are peer reviewed, accepted articles to be published in JLPE. These articles contain the authors' corrections. However, final citation details, including volume and/or issue number, publication year and page numbers, still need to be added and the text might change slightly before final publication to correct errors.

When the final article is assigned to volumes/issues of the publication, the “in press” version of the article will be removed and the final version will appear in the associated published volume and issue of the publication. The date an article was first made available online will be carried over. Please be aware that, although articles in press do not have all bibliographic details available yet, they can already be cited using the year of online publication and the DOI, as follows: author(s), article title, Publication (in press, year), DOI.
