No. 1 – Floricanto en Aztlán is a collection of Alurista's earliest one hundred poems (1968-1969). Alurista has had a major impact on the Chicano movement through his poetry, symbology and views. His influence demands attention. His symbols del barrio, del chuco, de la Chicana, de la madre, and his interpretations of Aztec and Mexican symbols, are a call to action. His poetry is exuberant, nostalgic, angry, loving. The book is beautifully illustrated with sixteen original linoleum cuts prepared by Judith Elena Hernández. ($8.50 cloth)

No. 2 – The Gypsy Wagon – un sancocho de cuentos sobre la experiencia chicana compiled and edited by Armando Rafael Rodríguez. This collection features the unpublished short stories of a group of young authors whose work reflects a variety of situations and experiences which Chicanos face. Each author uses different approaches and styles; together they compose a unique sancocho de cuentos Chicanos. (Price to be determined)

No. 3 – Chicano Poetry Anthology, 1968-1973 is a collection of Chicano poetry from various sources and authors. The publication, in process, will be one of the broadest and most diverse collections of Chicano poetry available. The anthology will reflect representative samples of a cross section of structural and thematic literary types and of geographical areas. (publication date: Spring 1974).
