

Letter from the Editors

Dear Readers,

We are delighted to publish the second issue of the first volume of the Berkeley Undergraduate Journal of Classics. This issue has met our aim of finding common ground in the Classics among disciplines ranging from Biology to English.

Our team of editors has worked diligently to create this medium of interdisciplinary exchange. As we bid farewell to our graduating editors, Gabriel Dietz, Anna Simas, and Alice Yeh, we happily welcome our new editors, Rachel Feldman and Meredith Millar. Their commitment to the open access of undergraduate scholarship will help ensure the continuance and growth of the BUJC.

We thank the faculty and staff of the Department of Classics at Berkeley and The California Digital Library who have continued to be enthusiastic advocates of our work. We would like to mention Dr. G.R.F. Ferrari, Chair of the Classics Department and Professor of Classics; Dr. Trevor Murphy, Associate Professor of Classics and Undergraduate Advisor; Ms. Cassandra Dunn, Student Services Advisor; and Mr. Justin Gonder, eScholarship Operations Coordinator.

Of course, we give our deepest thanks to the authors who have submitted such fine contributions to this issue. We are pleased to publish your exemplary scholarship.

Thank you,

Rachel Feldman
