

PREFACE

UCLA School of Law, in conjunction with the Consortium Editorial Board of the NATIONAL BLACK LAW JOURNAL at the University of California at Berkeley, Boalt Hall, is pleased to present this issue of the JOURNAL. This issue acknowledges and commemorates the rich cultural heritage of the African-American community. The NATIONAL BLACK LAW JOURNAL strives to foster, highlight and preserve the African-American community's contribution to legal scholarship and history.