

DIALOCK

by

ISIDORE OKPEWHO

- He:* The shame of it!
The double shame of it!
- She:* And since when, may I ask has the dystemper of my parents been a leading care _____
- He:* What you fail to understand girl
what you fail to acknowledge is that the female must pare her style to the compulsions whereto_____
- She:* And that's another thing: the fatuous insistence on compulsions and the all-too-easy joy the readiness untaught by time and the surge of new truths to sacrifice one point of view simply because a dumb tradition gave cheap blessing the spill of libation and the unction of blood that nobody needed:
must we need we be silenced again and again?
Does it not count that progress has been made and the race has grown?
And another thing:
you still call me 'girl' though I _____
- He:* I would not insist on titles if I was you but hear this:
Unshaken by time and novelties _____ and did you never stop