JUSUR

THE UCLA JOURNAL OF MIDDLE EASTERN STUDIES

Jusur: The UCLA Journal of Middle Eastern Studies is jointly sponsored by the Center for Near Eastern Studies and the Graduate Students' Association of UCLA. JUSUR was created in 1985 to fill the need for a multidisciplinary forum in Middle Eastern Studies specifically devoted to promoting the publication of original research by scholars at the beginning of their careers. Previous issues have included papers addressing topics such as history and historiography, art history, comparative literature, media and film studies, political science, gender studies, philosophy, religion, sociology, urban studies, linguistics, anthropology, folklore, critical and cultural studies including perspectives on Orientalism and Postcolonialism. JUSUR also publishes film, video, and book reviews.
