

U F A H A M U

AFRICAN ACTIVIST ASSOCIATION
AFRICAN STUDIES CENTER
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA
LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA 90024

Editor-in-Chief: Kandiora Drame

Editorial Board: Amina Adan, Kofi Afriyie, John DiStephano, Ngokwey NDolamb, Anita Pfouts, John Philips, Gloria Waite, Gwen Weaver (circulation).

Editorial Advisory Board: J. Ndukaku Amankulor, I.N.C. Aniebo, Louis D. Armmand, Teshome H. Gabriel, Niko M. Ngwenyama, Edward C. Okus, Renee Poussiant, Kipkorir Aly Rana, Nancy Rutledge.

Technical Advisor: Alice McGaughey

Typing and Subscriptions: Nancy Nolan

CONTRIBUTIONS

UFAHAMU will accept contributions from anyone interested in Africa and related subject areas. Contributions may include scholarly articles, political-economic analyses, commentaries, film and book reviews and freelance prose and poetry.

Manuscripts may be of any length, but those of 15-25 pages are preferred. (All manuscripts must be clearly typed, double-spaced originals with footnotes gathered at the end. Contributors should endeavor to keep duplicate copies of all their manuscripts.) The Editorial Board reserves the right to abbreviate any manuscript in order to fit page requirements.

All correspondence--manuscripts, subscriptions, books for review, inquiries, etc.--should be addressed to the Editor-in-Chief at the above address.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Individuals in

U.S. and Canada      $ 8.00/volume (3 issues); or $ 3.50/issue.
Overseas*
    Africa/Europe/Others      $ 10.00/volume; or $ 4.00/issue.

Institutions (Everywhere)      $ 12.00/volume.

* Overseas subscribers should include an additional $ 7.50 per volume for airmail postage. Otherwise, copies will be sent by surface mail.

ISSN 0041 5715.

Copyright 1981. Regents of the University of California.

U F A H A M U

VOLUME X, NUMBER 3

(SPRING 1981)

CONTENTS

Contributors .....	3
Editorial Notes .....	5
In Memoriam: Solomon Mahlangu .....	Dennis Brutus 7
From Social Commitment to Ideological Awareness: A Study of Soyinka's The Interpreters and Season of Anomy .....	Irene Assiba d'Almeida 13
The Hemorrhage of Time in Tchicaya's Le Mauvais Sang .....	B.M. Ibitokun 29
Tales of the Ogres .....	Wanjiki Matenjwa 42
Ayi Kwei Armah and the Mythopoesis of Mental Decolonization .....	Chidi Amuta 44
David G. Maillu and the East African Social Scene .....	Kalu Ogbaa 57
Class Struggle and the Meaning of the Blues .....	Gene A. Williams 68
The Role of Literature and Its Creator in Society .....	Esi Sutherland 69
Dennis Brutus and the Revolutionary Idea .....	Gessler Moses Nkondo 79
Muntu Reconsidered: From Tempels and Kagame to Janheinz Jahn .....	Aliko Songolo 92
Black Thought and Black Reality .....	Lou Turner 101
Poem for U.S. Griots .....	Dalili Davis 114
Women and Words .....	Amina H. Adan 115

Sudanese Politics (1956-72)..... John Philips 143

Book Reviews

A.E. Opubor and O.E. Nwuneli, The Development and Growth of the Film Industry in Nigeria.
..... Mbye B. Cham 154

Gail Gerhart, Black Power in South Africa: The Evolution of an Ideology.
..... Gloria Waite 160

Stephen Baier, An Economic History of Central Niger.
..... Kofi Afriyie 162

Adda B. Bozeman, Conflict in Africa: Concepts and Realities..... Gary Remer 166

John P. Entelis, Comparative Politics of North Africa: Algeria, Morocco, and Tunisia..... Steve Harmon 173

Ufahamu's Special Tenth Anniversary Offer ..... 176

Artwork: The Vow of the Changlings (p. 78), by Chike C. Aniakor, artist, poet and art historian. His works have appeared in African Arts, Presence Africaine, Greenfield Review, Oriki, Ufahamu and many other publications.

All other drawings are by the Kenyan artist, Hezbon Edward Owiti. He has contributed to African Arts and Ufahamu.

CONTRIBUTORS

AMINA ADAN is a Ph.D. student in African History at UCLA. She is especially interested in issues related to African women and African folklore.

KOFI AFRIYIE is a graduate student in International and Comparative Management at UCLA.

CHIDI AMUTA is teaching African Literature at the University of Ife, Nigeria. Amuta is also doing doctoral research on Nigerian Civil War Literature.

DENNIS BRUTUS is a well-known South African poet and a member of the ANC. He has published Letters to Martha and A Simple Lust.

MBYE B. CHAM is currently on the faculty of the African Studies and Research Program at Howard University in Washington, D.C. He is interested in the relationship between literature, film and society. His current work is on Senegalese filmmakers.

IRENE ASSIBA D'ALMEIDA is a lecturer at the University of Calabar, Nigeria. She is now a Visiting Professor at the University of Kentucky where she is teaching a course in African literature. In collaboration with Olga Mahouge Simpson, she translated Achebe's Arrow of God into French for Presence Africaine as La Fleche de Dieu.

DALILI DAVIS is a graduate student at UCLA, a writer and a singer.

STEVE HARMON is a graduate student of History at UCLA.

B.M. IBITOKUN is teaching at the Dept. of Literature in English, at the University of Ife, Ile-Ife, Nigeria.

WANJIKI MATENJWA is a young Kenyan poet.

MOSES NKONDO is teaching African Literature at the University of Oklahoma, Norman. This article is part of an upcoming book on the poetry of Dennis Brutus.

KALU OGBAA is an instructor of English at the University of Texas at Austin. He has contributed articles to such journals as Research in African Literature, Commonwealth Quarterly, Literary Half-Yearly. His Ph.D. dissertation, "Folkways in Chinua Achebe's Novels," is now being considered for publication into a study.

JOHN PHILIPS is a Ph.D. student in African History at UCLA. He has contributed articles and book reviews to past Ufahamu issues.

GARY REMER has done graduate work at Columbia University and is currently in the Ph.D. program in Political Science at UCLA. He is concentrating on political theory.

ALIKO SONGOLO is an Associate Professor of French and African Literature at the University of California, Irvine.

ESI SUTHERLAND graduated from the African Studies Center, UCLA, in 1980. Her areas of interest include African oral literature African literature in French and in English.

LOU TURNER is co-author of Frantz Fanon, Soweto and American Black Thought.

GLORIA WAITE is graduating from UCLA with a Ph.D. in History. She has contributed articles and book reviews to past Ufahamu issues.

GENE H. WILLIAMS is a graduate student of History at UCLA. He has published several poems in Ufahamu and in Nommo.

Time Keeper
Hezbon Edward Owiti

EDITORIAL NOTES

Contemporary African literature concerns itself with the African socio-political experience. It should be a literature of struggle aiming at the total liberation of Africa. This issue of Ufahamu examines some of the most outspoken voices in African literature. These writers' commitment to African liberation is well known. Through their literary endeavors and their political activities, they continue to help push the struggle forward. Thus, this issue presents articles on the prose writings of Zegoua Nokan, Ayi Kwei Armah and Wole Soyinka on the one hand, and on the poetry of Dennis Brutus and Tchicaya U Tamsi on the other hand. It also introduces readers to Somali Women's subtle and strong poetry as it captures their daily experience.

Our next Ufahamu issue will be a Special Anniversary Issue commemorating ten years of struggle of our journal to support liberation movements in Africa. In it our readers will find writings by past African freedom fighters who remain alive in our memories, thoughts and actions. For the first time there will be an issue bringing together a ten-year harvest of the best of Ufahamu, featuring speeches, articles and interviews by Amílcar Cabral, Steve Biko, Agostino Neto, Walter Rodney and H.B.M. Chipembere.

It is our pleasure to announce the Third Annual Conference of the African Activist Association on the Total Liberation of Africa scheduled for May 13, 14 and 15 at UCLA. This year's conference will focus on South Africa and Namibia. It will also include panel discussions on Central America, Asia and the Middle East in order to show the development of anti-imperialist struggles around the world. Several prominent representatives of various anti-imperialist organizations will attend the conference. Among them are John Makatini of the African National Congress (ANC), Theo Ben Gurirab of the South West African Peoples' Organization (SWAPO) and Andrew Lukhele of the Black Consciousness Movement (BCM) as well as a representative of Zimbabwe at the United Nations.

As this issue is going to press we learn that the U.S. government intends to ask Congress to cancel the Clark Amendment which bans covert assistance to rebel forces in Angola. The action of the Reagan Administration seeks congressional authorization to lift this ban which would permit arms sales to Savimbi's UNITA. This would help the racist regime of Pretoria to destabilize both the SWAPO and the Angolan government. As we all know, at the recently convened UN Conference on Namibia, the Pretoria regime refused to countenance a ceasefire and free elections. Such efforts constitute a well-known colonialist gimmick intending to slow down all liberation processes. As it has failed in Zimbabwe it will fail in Azania. For when a people speaking in one voice say Pamberi Ne Chimurenga--forward with the armed struggle--no terrorist gimmick can stop it. We demand that the present U.S. government reconsiders its policy towards Southern Africa as recommended by many African governments.

* * * *

We would like to express our warmest condolences to the relatives of the 22 Atlanta children who have recently been slain. Such a series of crimes must be stopped immediately. We hope that the authorities in Atlanta will intensify their efforts to bring this matter to a rapid end.

* * * *

SPECIAL CALL FOR ARTICLES ON WALTER RODNEY: The Editorial Board of Ufahamu plans to devote an issue, in the near future, to the life and works of Walter Rodney. Please submit manuscripts to Editor-in-Chief, Ufahamu, African Studies Center, UCLA, Los Angeles, California 90024.

* * * *

Thinker
Hezbon Edward Owiti